

Environmental Policy

EDL is a global producer of sustainable distributed energy.

EDL operates in Australia, Europe and North America. This Environmental Policy is applicable to all activities conducted by EDL.

EDL recognises the requirements of the International Standard ISO 14001 as the framework for environmental management and is committed to:

- establishing, maintaining and reviewing procedures, practices, measurable objectives and targets for the prevention of environmental harm
- identifying and managing the environmental issues associated with its activities
- compliance with our environmental obligations
- environment protection and preventing pollution, and
- continuous improvements of the environmental management system to enhance environmental performance.

EDL will communicate externally on aspects of our environmental performance through our legal reporting obligations.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'J Harman', is positioned above a horizontal dashed line.

James Harman, Chief Executive Officer

Issued: April 2021

Review date: April 2023

Scope: this policy applies to all EDL employees and contractors at all EDL locations.